

Statement of participation

Anchal Bisht

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Advanced French: At the science museum in Paris

This 15-hour free course explored the topic of science and technology in France, to support the development of advanced language skills in French.

Issue date: 28 August 2024

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/languages/french/advanced-french-at-the-science-museum-paris/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: L310_1

Advanced French: At the science museum in Paris

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/languages/french/advanced-french-at-the-science-museum-paris/content-section-0>

Course summary

Using the topic of science and technology in France, this free course, Advanced French: At the science museum in Paris, will show you how to structure arguments, write a summary, use the subjunctive, report numbers and express wishes in French.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- express wishes, preferences and necessity
- pronounce numbers and dates
- summarise a text
- structure arguments
- use the subjunctive to express doubt.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Introduction to the material

Section 2

Points clés

Section 3

D'entrée de jeu

Section 4

Dans le vif du sujet

Section 5

À vous

Section 6

Conclusion